Anisa Rullan is Front Page News

As the Moderator of The Scroll school newspaper during the past ten years, I have always kept track of who made the front cover, particularly more than one of the sixteen issues of the newspaper that I have been associated with. One person, one person did the unthinkable — she graced our cover twice in just three opportunities. Note that The Scroll was shut down for Covid which was during her sophomore and junior years, and this year we could only publish one issue. (It’s going to be a powerful issue!)

Anisa Rullan is a great dancer. She graced our front cover as a freshman in 2019 when she won the very competitive Café d’ Artiste performance competition, and again this Spring when she was the final act of The Talent Show, in our new auditorium. Then, her body parts flew this way and that, up-down, in and around, like a comet.

The front cover of The Scroll typically has four boxes or pictures with two on top and two below. I really had no choice but to put Anisa in one of the boxes for the upcoming issue. The other boxes are ‘The Val and the Sal’. Annly S. John is the Valedictorian and Daniel Pereira, our Salutatorian. Dr. Edwin Quezada, the Yonkers District Superintendent was the Master of Ceremony of the Auditorium Dedication Concert. In the fourth box, Mrs. Theresa Smith, is the Secondary High School Teacher of the Year for the Yonkers Public Schools for 2021-2022. Anisa will remain in this good company on the front page of The Scroll.

So, tonight The Scroll is presenting Anisa Rullan with the Front Page News Award. Anisa is front page news!

This fine award did not cost me one-thousand dollars. This award did not cost me even five hundred dollars. Actually, Mr. Virga made this beautiful award downstairs in the workshop, and Ms. Loia engraved it in the school library with the Glow-Forge lazer printer.

The Scroll Notes

The Scroll Club would like to congratulate Mr. Sayegh, A.P. for the recent birth of his third son.

Congratulations to Kristina Nilaj for the recent birth of her first child, a daughter named Tori.

Congratulations to Ms. Chavez for completing her requirements for an M.S. in Reading and Literacies from the U. of Rochester.

We are selling newspapers throughout the school for fifty cents, but you can also find the June copy at the Lincoln High School website (yonkerspublicschools.org/lincoln).

Dr. Saghafi : Retiring Teacher Career Contributions (to The Scroll)
(Speech by Mr. Sweeney at Dr. Saghafi's Retirement Party 6/2/22)

Dr. Dean Saghafi and I often spoke when I walked into his classroom and said, “It is time.” It was time for him to share with me his photos and explanations of the photos of his science research scholars for The Scroll school newspaper.

We both have this interest. I have developed two issues of The Scroll annually since 2013 and he supplied his photos regularly.

Often we spoke in the transfer process when he would naturally call me, “Brother.” I never really spoke like that until now. Now as Dr. Saghafi has decided to retire this June, I will now pick up that lingo because today I call him, “Brother.” It is sad to think that he is done. “Brother, I will feel your loss, especially in the Fall when it is again time to turn on the press.

So, it is fitting to present you with the Lincoln High School Retiring Teacher Career Contributions to The Scroll school newspaper award.

This fine award did not cost me one-thousand dollars. This award did not cost me even five hundred dollars. Actually, Mr. Virga made this beautiful award downstairs in the workshop, and Ms. Loia engraved it in the school library with the Glow-Forge lazer printer.

Farewell, Brother!

The Multi-Cultural Dance Club

By Dainely Veras Almonte

Being in the Multi-Cultural Dance Club since freshman year has been one of the most fulfilling and beneficial activities I have participated in. This club really brings us together as a community not only here in Lincoln High School, but District-wide as well. I was lucky enough to come across Kendry (who was a senior when I was a freshman.) She introduced me to Ms. Santana, who is now the 11th grade School Guidance Counselor, and asked me if I would like to be part of the dance club. I immediately said yes, and since then all has been learning, sacrifice and effort, but lots of fun too. For my entire 9th grade and the first half of 10th grade, our agendas were full of performances at the Board of Education and Lincoln High School.

Our school hours ranged from 7:45 am to 6:30 pm because of rehearsals. The dedication that must be put into performance by the dancers as well as Ms. Santana can not be explained in writing. She constantly showed as much love and commitment as the dancers.

COVID-19 times were tough for everyone. For us, it meant not dancing for a while. When we were informed that we could do a show at Lincoln High School we were thrilled and willing to do it right away. The moment I was able to dance after so long, I felt that fire in me again. Dancing in my room is different than dancing in front of people. and I knew I missed it when I felt the same feeling I felt two years ago before the pandemic. Everyone has or must have something that motivates them like dancing motivates me, something that gets them excited about waking up and going to school. When I graduate I definitely will miss this club, Ms. Santana and all my different partners here at Lincoln.

Auditorium Dedication Ceremony

By William Sweeney

On the evening of March 18, Lincoln High School and the Yonkers Public Schools dedicated the new three-million dollar upgrade to the auditorium by providing a concert with quite a wide range of musical talent. The auditorium was named after Josephine A. Caruso who was the Grand Dame of Lincoln High School and a teacher for thirty-seven years. (See photos on pages 7-9).

Improvements include all new seating, stage, sound system, lighting, ceiling and walls built for sound, and bathrooms in the entranceway.

My Experience in the Dominican Republic

By Johanna Torres

The Dominican Republic (D.R.) is a beautiful island in the Caribbean. It is warm, has tropical fruits and views that will stun your mind. I was born there and have a pretty good understanding of what it is like living there. So let me tell you my story. I was born in La Capital, which is a very popular state in the Dominican Republic. It is one of the most industrialized cities in the “D.R.”. Shortly after I was born, I moved to an urban town called Villa Mella, where I spend most of my childhood. My favorite foods that I ate there were mangu, rice, beans and red meat.

I was raised with my father’s side of the family and lived with my aunts and my grandma. I went to a Christian school and the requirements were to wear a uniform and to be there on time. I spent my free time going to beaches and spending time outside playing with my cousins, sometimes in the rain. I looked forward to spending time with my dad.

The reason that I moved to the United States was to find more opportunities and a better education. Although I live in the U.S., I miss and love my island country and look forward to going back to experience it in a different way.

The Seal of Bi-Literacy

By Mr. William Sweeney

To earn a Seal of Bi-Literacy (SBL), a student must work with a teacher to collect from their previous writings and or write six pieces in two languages. Lincoln High School teachers review the writings by using rubrics. Still, the students had to write a summary of their experience doing the Bi-Literacy activities and then take a test.

As one of the teachers assisting the students for the SBL, I worked with three students who earned their SBL. I was honored to work with Derick Sanabria, Elion Toma and Daniel Castro Aleman. I appreciated reading their impressively written pieces. This was my first year working on helping students achieve the SBL.

Ms. Llanos, the Chairperson of the English As a New Language (ENL) program, and Mr. Sayegh (A.P.) spearheaded the SBL Program. Approximately twenty students from Lincoln High School achieved the SBL. Other Lincoln teachers who participated with helping students earn the SBL include Ms. Chavez, Dr. McFarlane, Ms. Lacen, Ms. Kwasi, Mr. Montalvo, and Ms. Soler.
