HIGHLIGHT

We wanted to interview Mr. Soler and find out more about him. Here is our interview.

Raul: Why did you choose Yonkers for your job?

Mr. Soler: Yonkers chose me to work here in Yonkers. My goal was to work in a larger community.

Raul: What is the hardest part of your job?

Mr. Soler: A goal for myself will be to motivate teachers, staff, kids and community to keep moving forward.

Raul: Would you recommend kids to do your job?

Mr. Soler: Yes, I would recommend kids to do my job, but one thing I would recommend is for kids to do a job that they love and like to do.

Raul: What are your hobbies?

Mr. Soler: I love to learn new things, read, technology, watch documentaries, and to learn more from famous people.

Raul: If you could meet anyone who will it be and why?

Mr. Soler: I have met this person but I would like to have a sit down with Mr. Barack Obama and talk about leadership.

Matthew: How long did you study in school for your job?

Mr. Soler: I have been in school over 20 years. I am back in school pursuing my PhD.

Matthew: What is one thing you enjoy about being a superintendent?

Mr. Soler: Seeing students in school and visiting schools. I love to see kids succeed. I also like to participate in graduations.

Anibal Soler, Jr.,

Superintendent of Yonkers Public Schools

Matthew: Do you think other schools will have solar power?

Mr. Soler: I hope to have more schools with solar power and to have more green technology in our schools.

Matthew: What did you want to be when you grew up?

Mr. Soler: I wanted to play basketball in the NBA or become an artist. Now, I work with the community which I love.

Matthew: What is one thing we would be surprised to know about you?

Mr. Soler: The one thing is that I have the same birthday as my dad, and of course we have the same name.

RAUL & MATT

We wanted to send out a huge thank you to Mr. Soler and to wish everyone a happy holidays!
